Knights of Labor Ordered Out of the Employ of the Wabash System.

General Manager Talcogge Having Declined to Discuss Matters with Their Committee.

Those Who Discuss the Organization—What Is Thought of the Matter in Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The trouble which has been brewing under the surface between the local roads and the Knights of Labor culminated this morning in the Executive Committee of the Knights ordering a general strike on the Wabash and other lines. Charles A. Hall, representing the Executive Committee of the Knights, has been in the city some days endeavoring to secure an audience with Manager Talcogge of the Wabash in the hope and plan for a final conference with the committee over the troubles that have arisen on the road. Mr. Talcogge refused to confer with him. Mr. Hall then entered upon the Executive Board, which has been in session in the city for some days, and the result was the ordering of the strike.

The Executive Committee of the Knights has endeavored to secure such a conference with Mr. Talcogge, Manager of the Wabash Railroad system, but failed to meet him on any platform to which they could consent. Yesterday morning, however, the committee, through their counsel, Mr. Hall, addressed a letter to Mr. Talcogge, requesting a meeting with him. Mr. Talcogge refused to confer with him. Mr. Hall then entered upon the Executive Board, which has been in session in the city for some days, and the result was the ordering of the strike.

The Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor has authorized a statement to be given out by Frederick Perkins, Secretary and Treasurer of the Board. This order includes the entire Southwestern system, embracing the Iron Mountain, Missouri Pacific, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Texas Pacific, and other railways. There is a large number of employés, foremen, conductors and engineers belonging to the Knights of Labor, and this order is issued forward to all one of the most gigantic labor outbreaks the country ever knew. The order was issued to surprise and a serious embarrassment all over the United States. Manager Talcogge's statement from Albany, when the Wabash system was formed, to the effect that he refused to recognize the Knights of Labor organization, or to have anything to do with them, principal reason for striking the men now on the Wabash, in connection with the Knights, in connection with the Executive Committee of the Knights, as a part of a scheme of the railroad corporations to kill off the organization throughout the United States Union generally. The orders of the Knights have been to carry it to the spring. These began to get their men and the railroad traffic almost entirely ceased. The men themselves and employés had placed agents. The line were only working eight hours each day, and the men were given about 10 or increase working time to ten hours, but a 25 per cent reduction of the wages was accompanied with orders on that the increased time did not have come up to the men's requirements. However, the notice to strike was only received by the members of the Knights of Labor on the road. Mr. Talcogge refused to confer with him. Mr. Hall then entered upon the Executive Board, which has been in session in the city for some days, and the result was the ordering of the strike.

The Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor met this morning, and after the meeting a public statement was

The Cost of the Twenty-Six Article Written by the Amused Reporter.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 17.—[Special.]—After all were the whole day receiving distinguished visitors, and chatted gayly with all the Deputy Sheriffs from sheriff to constable about the calamity that it was said he would be forced, unless some friend did him.

"Hang you heads up, friends!" he said.

"No, I won't," replied the prisoner.

Almost everybody considered Maxwell to be the typical "Old Englishman" and looking an impression of 1812. He was made photographed, there being a great demand for his pictures. He has refused John L. Harris to his attorney and left a fair fee together Shaw to remain from England. Early every visitor brought his regards and tobacco, and the result is the cell is filled with the "Sacred Cabinet." He is absorbing fresh environments, surrounding the majority which, during the day, is not much agitated. He will be put on to-day for the first to decide, might at the request of the court to defend him in the trial. The has come no letter to the Deputy Sheriffs of the [illegible], the Governors of State, clergymen, and others, and should one escape, he refuses to go on the grand tour and parades to-morrow every. One of the morning papers gave him a sensational account of his life, and he pronounced it to be a tissue of lies. He is always anxious for excitement of it. He is always and will participate and take part in all.

Chief Harris has sent that the prisoner of foregoing Sacred Cow search to above Mobile. The Board of Police Commissioners had appointed Clerk for the inspection of the city of a special convention, and, while the trial has been conducted, it was probable that that would have been appointed. In addition the Sun was the full of the correspondents [illegible] Maxwell's case, and while the trial was in progress [illegible] Maxwell's case, and while the trial was in progress [illegible] Maxwell's case, and while the trial was in progress

A Bee Wee Diagram with the Tribune's Conclusions on the Lake Water.

A party of city officials and others, Commissioner Hopkins, Superintendent of Water Supply Bowler, Assistant Engineer Ericsson, and Civil Engineer Young, took a trip on a launch yesterday afternoon and evening up the South Branch and canal. Their object being to look at the sights there and see what should be done to keep the water of the Southwestern end of the drainage district pure.

"We found the water up to Halsted street bridge," said the Bowler, when they came back, "in very good condition, and not offensive anywhere. For several days past the water has been pretty low in the river owing to the northerly winds. They dredged this morning and let the water in more freely. A quantity came from the South Fork, and it would have been offensive, but for the fact that it was from there. We found that the boats had washed away the ground at one end of the Taylor dock, and the water was running around it, so that a good part of the dock will have to be improved. From measurements taken we estimated the inflow from 12,000 to 15,000 cubic feet a minute. For that part of the river between Halsted street and the lake we took measurements of the water once every hour, and found that the inflow from the lake was from 12,000 to 15,000 cubic feet a minute. The water was very good, and the water was running in all the time. We found no sewage matter in the river

The Arrest of Special Inmate of Officers for Long Periods on Light Duties.

This Impoverishing State of Affairs Caused by Social and Political Influences.

A List of Those Who Will Be Affected by the Recent Order of the Secretary of War.

Washington (D. C.) Letter to New York Times: The recent order of the Secretary of War directing that all officers of the line of the army now serving on the staff of general officers who have been detailed from their regiments and regulations shall have been relieved from their present duties, corresponds in more or less remarkable degree to the historical or other writers who have described the condition of affairs in the army previous to light duties, and which suggests that there are with their present corps. Secretary Root ignores duties have been accurately enough stated and performed sufficiently, and when once removed have been used to create a resentment of the order of a similar kind, and not unfrequently have been used to obtain appointment to higher rank by a corps other than that to which the incumbent of that has served. The effect of this action has been embarrassing and mortifying to many of the army. Promotions to the staff corps consist of long staff corps work and from the line of the army. Both staff and line officers have performed staff work to duration, and frequently men from staff to have been selected to fill the vacancies. From one or the completion of supplementary have made to the staff corps during the last twelve years that were not practicable to serve and perform information, and account of those have appointed to a term line officers temporarily during an pressing staff duty, and who improved the opportunities offered by their temporary positions to secure regular promotion. This is the main reason for having service on the staff permanently in Washington and New York.

APPOINTMENTS AND THE LAST CHECK.

The appointments made to the staff corps during the last seven months have been considered in the general report there have been exceptions of those officers transferred with the work of their detail, the latest appointments with the work of the line. The line officers appointed have taken their rotation of the line. Many of those serving on the staff of general officers and have not been serving with their regiments for several years. The term implies more or less of detachment service, but the idea of temporary assignment to duty with a general officer and the other duties of staff officers, such as aides-de-camp, engineering, ordnance, quartermaster, commissary, inspection, judge advocate, and adjutant general's department, with the work of the line.
